

Once the application has been submitted and received via web site or fax, it is evaluated and if after evaluation it is deemed that you may be a match for the pet you are applying for, you will be contacted for a phone interview. The interview is informal and low key. During the interview you'll be able to ask any questions you may have about the pet and/or rescue. If it is determined that you have a strong application and a strong interview, you may be approved immediately. If the application or the interview is marginal you may be required to have a home visit and/or have a second interview with another director.

PLEASE NOTE:

- 1. All of our pets are adoptable nationwide, regardless of where they are being fostered.
